Come along with me as we shadow two young lovers torn apart by war in a worldwide search for one another. From High above the white cliffs of Larne Ireland across the North Channel Michael sails to jolly old Scotland, where quite by chance, he meets and falls head over heels in love with Hannah Rebecca a lovely lass from the banks of Loch Lomond. Soon thereafter: Please dont leave me Michael, she cries, Not to worry love he assures her: Ill be home for Christmas. Make love to me Michael she whispers; as she rolls him in the grass . . . Soon - The Winds of War turn their lives up side down. Will they ever find one another, or true love? Que Serra Serra
